BAD SKIN?

Stop Worrying About Pimples, Blackheads and Other Externally Caused Skin Troubles

Try Skin Doctor's Amazing Simple Directions and Be Thrilled with the Difference—Often So Much

CLEARER IN JUST ONE SHORT WEEK

Have you ever stopped to realize that the leading screen stars whom you admire, as well as the beautiful models who have lovely, soft white skin, were all born just like you with a lovely smooth skin?

The truth is that many girls and women do not give their skin a chance to show off the natural beauty that lies hidden underneath those externally caused pimples, blackheads and irritations. For almost anyone can have the natural, normal complexion which is in itself beauty. All you have to do is follow a few amazingly simple rules.

Many women shut themselves out of the thrills of life – dates, romance, popularity, social and business success – only because sheer neglect has robbed them of the good looks, poise and feminine self-assurance which could so easily be theirs. Yes, everybody looks at your face. The beautiful complexion, which is yours for the asking, is like a permanent card of admission to all the good things of life that every woman craves. And it really can be yours—take my word for it! – no matter how discouraged you may be this very minute about those externally caused skin miseries.

Medical science gives us the truth about a lovely skin. There are small specks of dust and dirt in the air all the time. When these get into the open pores in your skin, they can in time cause the pores to become larger and more susceptible to dirt particles, dust and infection. These open pores begin to form blackheads which become infected and bring you the humiliation of pimples, blackheads or other blemishes. When you neglect your skin by not giving it the necessary care, you leave yourself wide open to externally caused skin miseries. Yet proper attention with the double Viderm treatment may mean the difference between enjoying the confidence a fine skin gives you or the embarrassment of an ugly, unbeautiful skin that makes you want to hide your face.

The double Viderm treatment is a formula prescribed by a skin doctor with amazing success, and costs you only a few cents daily. This treatment consists of two jars. One contains Viderm Skin Cleanser, a jelly-like formula which penetrates and acts as an antiseptic upon your pores. After you use this special Viderm Skin Cleanser, you simply apply the Viderm Fortified Medicated Skin Cream. You rub this in, leaving an almost invisible protective covering for the surface of your skin.

This double treatment has worked wonders for so many cases of external skin troubles that it may help you, too – in fact, your money will be refunded if it doesn't. Use it for only ten days. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose. It is a guaranteed treatment. Enjoy it. Your dream of a clear, smooth complexion may come true in ten days or less.

Use your double Viderm treatment every day until your skin is smoother and clearer. Then use it only once a week to remove stale make-up and dirt specks that infect your pores, as well as to aid in healing external irritations. Remember that when you help prevent blackheads, you also help to prevent externally caused skin miseries and pimples.

Incidentally, while your two jars and the doctor's directions are on their way to you, be sure to wash your face as often as necessary. First use warm water, then cleanse with water as cold as you can stand it, in order to freshen, stimulate and help close your pores. After you receive everything, read your directions carefully. Then go right to it and let these two fine formulas help your dreams of a beautiful skin come true.

Just mail your name and address to Betty Memphis, care of the New York Skin Laboratory, 206 Division Street, Dept. 315 New York, N. Y. By return mail you will receive the doctor's directions, and both jars, packed in a safety-sealed carton. On delivery, pay two dollars plus postage. If you wish, you can save the postage fee by mailing the two dollars with your letter. If you are in any way dissatisfied, your money will be cheerfully refunded. To give you an idea of how fully tested and proven the Viderm double treatment is, it may interest you to know that, up to this month, over two hundred and twelve thousand women have ordered it on my recommendation. If you could only see the thousands of happy, grateful letters that have come to me as a result, you would know the joy this simple treatment can bring. And, think of it!—the treatment must work for you, or it doesn't cost you a cent.

CALL THE DOCTOR

THE gun aimed at her head looked as big as a six foot sewer pipe when Miss Ruth Ennis gazed up from her typewriter. Her heart jumped straight up in her throat and settled with a lump into her stomach as the blood-shot eyes of the stranger bored down upon her.

"Wh . . . who are you? What do you want?" she asked in a quivering voice.

"Never mind who I am," the man replied in a gutteral tone. "Don't scream—don't make a sound. Don't do nothing but sit there. If you move, I'll blow your head off!"

Ruth sat back tensely in her chair, fighting hard to compose herself. Her heart was thumping madly and for a moment she felt as though she were going to faint. She looked at the man carefully, trying to remember everything about him so she could describe him if necessary. He was tall and thin, dressed in a brown suit that was badly wrinkled, and one lanky arm hung loosely by his side. She could see bloodstains on one sleeve and hand. There was a heavy growth of beard on his face, and he wore a battered, brown hat that hung low over one eye.

"I wanta see the doctor," he finally said, "and be quick about it!"

"He's not in. Doctor Howard has gone home for the night. He won't be back until morning."

For a moment the gun wavered, as if the man were dreadfully tired. Then the gun steadied again. "I gotta have a doctor. I'm hurt bad."

Where have I seen the man before, Ruth asked herself. Then suddenly she knew. There had been a picture and a story in the evening paper the day before. There had been a bank robbery. One cashier was killed. The bandit had been wounded but had escaped. Then, this must be the man! An involuntary gasp gave her secret away. "You . . . you must be the man in the paper. The bank robber. You're a murderer!"

He smiled grimly. "So you know. I gave them cops a merry chase, and if I can get this arm fixed up they'll never catch me. Okay, get up on your feet."

Ruth stood up by the side of her desk. She wasn't afraid any longer. The killer looked like he might pass out at any moment from loss of blood. If he did, she could tie him up and call the police.

"Into the back room," he said, "and make it snappy!"

Ruth walked slowly into the back room, the man close behind her. She could feel the gun prodding her in the back. She snapped on the light by the side of the door and he closed the door behind them. They were in the small operating room that Doctor Howard used for minor operations. A small operating table, a chromium stool, a washstand, a glass cabinet full of sharp looking instruments, and a medicine cabinet were the only articles of furniture in the room. A telephone was cradled in a little niche in the wall.

Ruth turned to face the man. "Now what do you want?"

"I gotta get my arm fixed up. Can you do it?"

"That arm looks pretty bad. I'm only a nurse, and you'd better get a doctor to dress it."

He sat down on the table, the gun still in his good hand. "Then we gotta get a doctor here quick. I can't hold out much longer. I've lost a lot of blood."

She started toward him. "You certainly do need a doctor. But Doctor Howard has gone for the night. He's at home."

Before she could reach him, he waved her back with the gun. "Don't get too close to me. I don't trust you. Keep away."

She stopped and sat down on the little stool.

"You gotta call him. Tell him to come to the office right away."

"But what will I tell him? He'll know something's wrong."

"He'd better not know, and he'd better not suspect anything, because if he does, I'll kill you! Tell him anything. Tell him you've got an emergency case here. Tell him a fellow got burned in an accident. I don't care what you tell him, but get him here!"

The man's eyes closed and he sighed with pain. He swayed slightly and it seemed to Ruth that he was going to topple off the desk sideways onto the floor. The gun dropped limply in his hand, resting on his knee.

Suddenly she made a dash for the door. Ruth never knew how he got there ahead of her, but he made it. He grabbed her by the left shoulder, his fingers cutting brutally into her flesh, and spun her viciously around, throwing her in a sprawled heap on the floor.

He stood over her, breathing heavily, the gun clenched in a tight fist. "Thought you was smart, didn't you? I knew you was gonna make a break for it if I gave you half a chance!" His voice rose to a snarl. "If you try anything like that again, I'll kill ya! Understand? I already killed one person and one more won't make no difference. I can't hang but once!"

Ruth struggled up off the floor, rubbing her sore and bruised shoulder. "All right, what do you want me to do?"

"Get on that phone and call Doctor Howard. Tell him to get right over here. Tell him you got an emergency burn case. And no funny stuff, get me?"

Ruth nodded and lifted the phone off the hook. She dialed the doctor's house number.

"Hello, Doctor Howard? This is Miss Ennis. Can you come over to the office right away?"

She felt the gun pressing against her side and heard the man whisper. "Be careful what you say!"

"Yes, doctor, it's an emergency. The man's burned pretty badly."

She stopped talking for a moment and was silent, listening to the voice on the other end of the line.

Then she continued. "I've done everything I could for the patient. Dressed the arm and bathed it in HCL, but I think he needs a doctor's attention. Better come right over." She hung up. "Well, that's that. Doctor Howard said he'd be over as soon as he gets dressed."

The killer grinned evilly. "Very good, Miss Ennis, very good. I couldn't have done better myself. Now we'll just sit here and wait." He motioned with the gun. "Have a seat on the table. I'll just stand here by the door, so you won't get any more of those funny ideas of yours."

Fifteen minutes passed. Fifteen of the slowest minutes Ruth had ever spent. Fifteen centuries of endless waiting. The man lit a cigarette, smoked it feverishly. Then there was a soft knock on the outer door.

He jumped up, ground the cigarette out under his heel, and Ruth's heart began to beat faster. Her throat was dry; her eyes burned.

"That's the Doc," he whispered. "Go out and open the door, and be careful!"

Ruth went out the operating room into the office, the man following her closely. He remained on one side of the door so that he would be concealed when it opened. He had the gun in his hand.

Ruth opened the door slowly. Suddenly the room was full of policemen. The man behind the door fired one shot, but that was all, and no one was hit. Then, it was all over, and they had him. He stood there, snarling and swaying on his feet, held up by two policemen.

Doctor Howard stepped through the door. "I wasn't sure we'd make it in time," he said.

Ruth felt weak in the knees. She laughed nervously. "I'm glad you're here, but I'm also glad you didn't come alone. I didn't know whether you caught it or not."

Then he laughed. "I thought you really had an emergency case at first. Then, when you said you bathed the patient's arm in HCL I knew something was wrong, so I brought the cops with me.

"Whoever heard of doing a thing like that? Bathing a burn case in hydrochloric acid!"

YA-A-HA-HA-HA
THERE IT IS, MEN! A TRUCK FULL OF VALUABLES! RIPE FOR THE PLUNDER!
YOU'RE A SMART GUY, HYENA!
TO LORRAINE MILLER; THE HYENA'S SUCCESS BRINGS TRAGIC NEWS...
YOUR FATHER WAS DRIVING THE TRUCK THAT CRASHED, MISS MILLER!

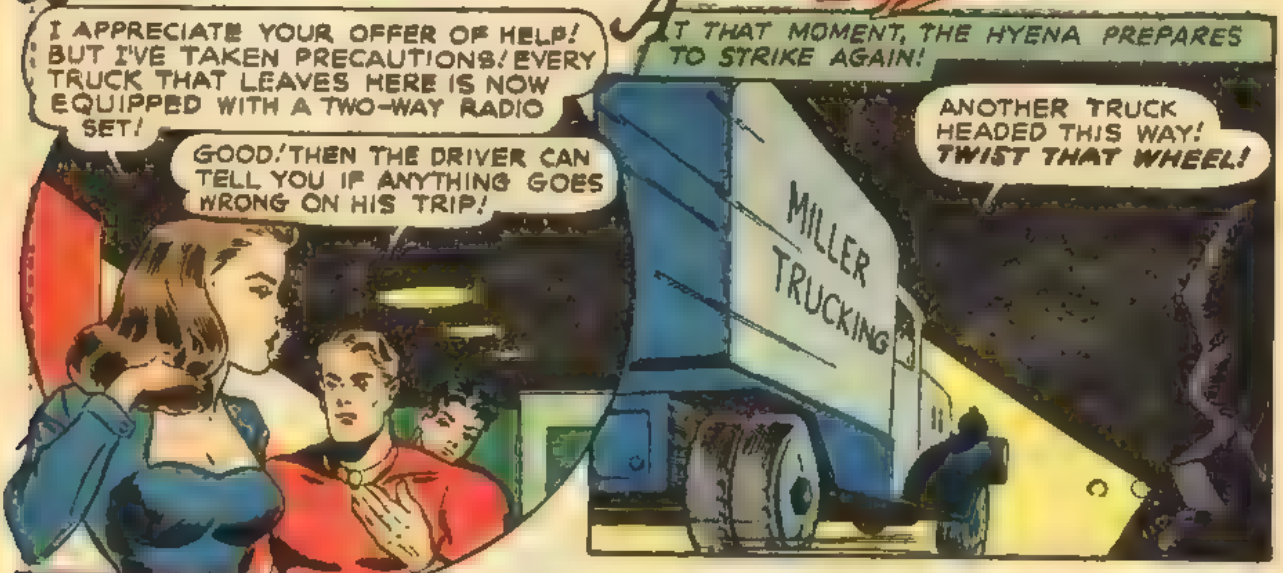
LET'S GO! OUR FIRST STOP IS THE MAIN DEPOT OF THE MILLER TRUCKING LINE!



Later...
I APPRECIATE YOUR OFFER OF HELP! BUT I'VE TAKEN PRECAUTIONS! EVERY TRUCK THAT LEAVES HERE IS NOW EQUIPPED WITH A TWO-WAY RADIO SET!

AT THAT MOMENT, THE HYENA PREPARES TO STRIKE AGAIN!

HIJACKERS! THAT'S THE ANSWER, TORO!
THEY DELIBERATELY WRECKED THE TRUCK, AND THAT MIRROR EXPLAINS HOW THEY DID IT!

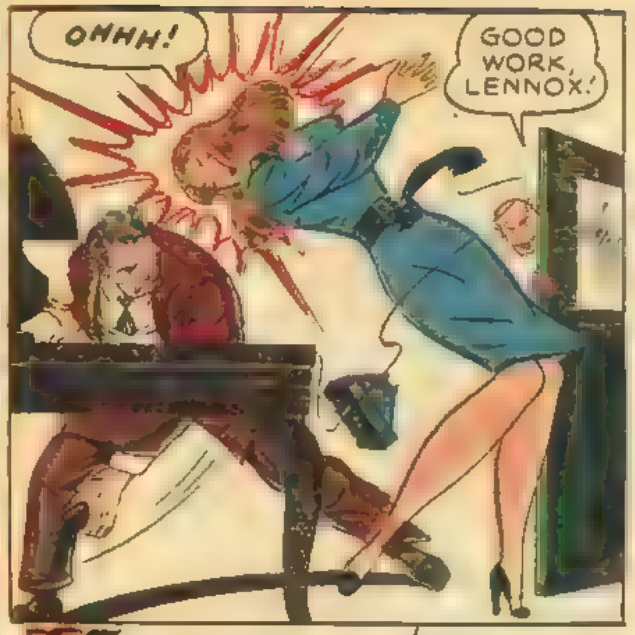
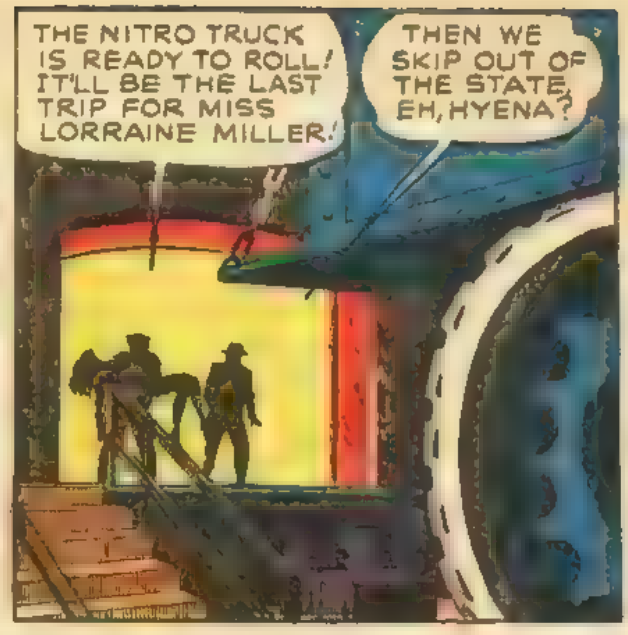
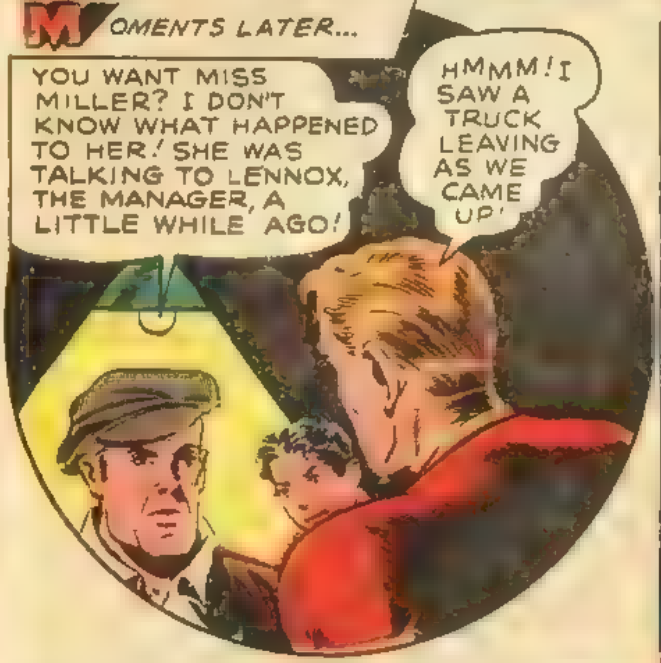
...UNLESS WE CAN STOP HIM! HALT!
IT'S THE REPAIR TRUCK, WITH MISS MILLER!
YOU NEARLY SHARED THE FATE OF YOUR DRIVER, MISS MILLER! HIS TRUCK WAS DELIBERATELY WRECKED!
THEN HE-HE'S DEAD? I DON'T UNDERSTAND HOW IT HAPPENED! HE WAS TRAVELING A NEW, SECRET ROUTE!
HOW DID YOU KNOW MY TRUCK WAS HEADED THIS WAY?
THE HYENA TOLD US! HE KNOWS EVERYTHING!
LATER, WHEN LORRAINE MILLER RETURNS TO THE DEPOT...
MR. LENNOX, NO ONE KNOWS OUR TRUCKING SCHEDULES, BUT YOU AND I! YET, INFORMATION HAS REACHED A MAN CALLED THE HYENA!
ARE YOU ACCUSING ME, MISS MILLER?
SOMEONE'S TO BLAME! I'M GOING TO CALL THE POLICE AND LET THEM FIND OUT WHO'S GUILTY!
5

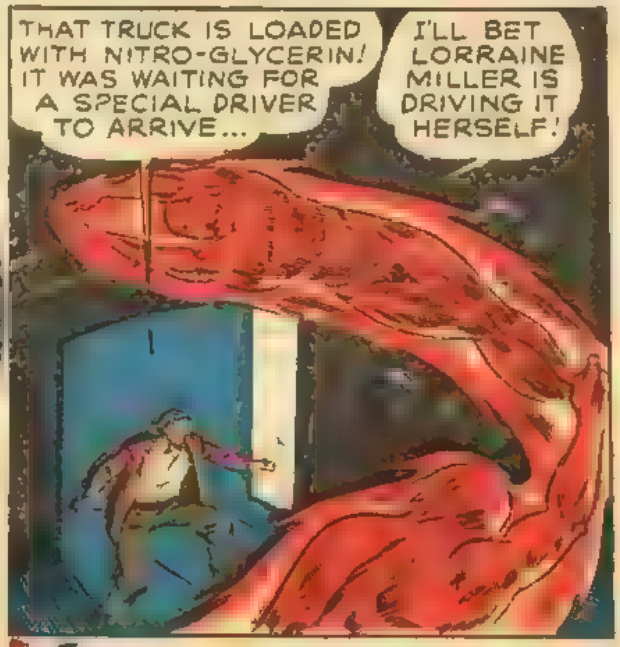




MOMENTS LATER...

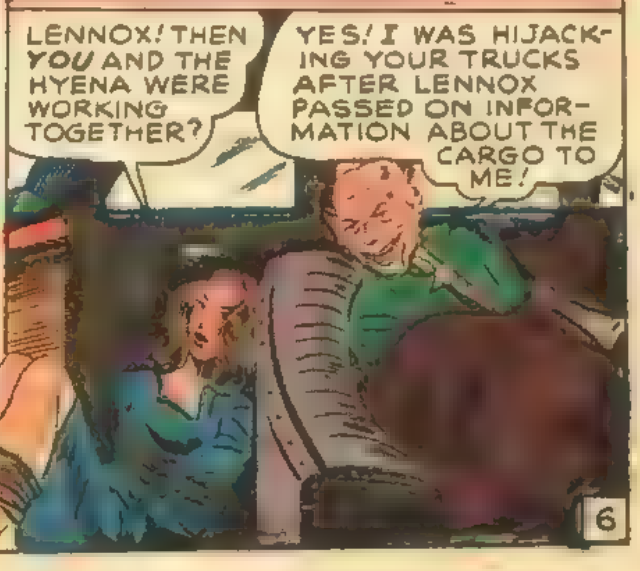


YOU WANT MISS MILLER? I DON'T KNOW WHAT HAPPENED TO HER! SHE WAS TALKING TO LENNOX, THE MANAGER, A LITTLE WHILE AGO!
HMMM! I SAW A TRUCK LEAVING AS WE CAME UP!



THAT TRUCK IS LOADED WITH NITRO-GLYCERIN! IT WAS WAITING FOR A SPECIAL DRIVER TO ARRIVE...
I'LL BET LORRAINE MILLER IS DRIVING IT HERSELF!

LITTLE DOES TORCH SUSPECT THE ACTUAL DANGER IN WHICH LORRAINE MILLER FINDS HERSELF!



LENNOX! THEN YOU AND THE HYENA WERE WORKING TOGETHER?
YES! I WAS HIJACKING YOUR TRUCKS AFTER LENNOX PASSED ON INFORMATION ABOUT THE CARGO TO ME!

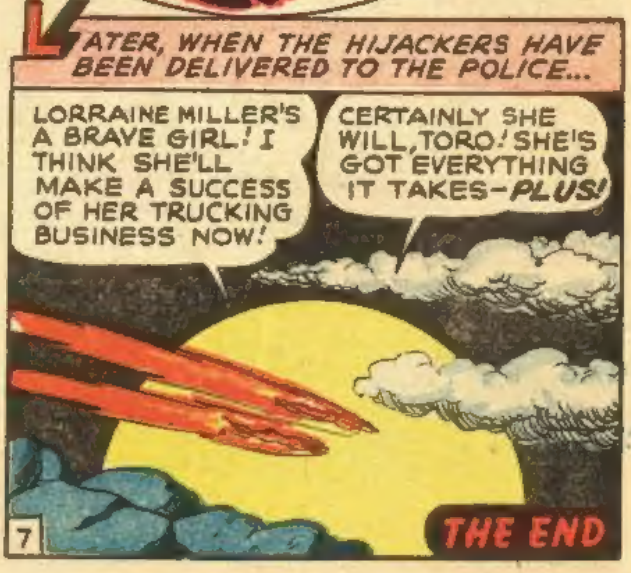
WE'LL LEAVE YOU HERE! TRY DRIVING IT YOURSELF! YAA-HA-HA!

THE TORCH!

GET THEM, TORO! I'M GOING AFTER THAT TRUCK! I HOPE I'M NOT TOO LATE! IT JUST JUMPED THE ROAD AT THE CURVE!

BUT YOU'RE SAFE, MISS MILLER!

TORO HAD NO TROUBLE WITH OUR HIJACKING FRIEND!
IN THE END, THE HYENA PROVED AS COWARDLY AS HIS NAMESAKE! HE STARTED BEGGING FOR MERCY AS SOON AS I HIT HIM! LENNOX WAS THE SAME!



LATER, WHEN THE HIJACKERS HAVE BEEN DELIVERED TO THE POLICE...
LORRAINE MILLER'S A BRAVE GIRL! I THINK SHE'LL MAKE A SUCCESS OF HER TRUCKING BUSINESS NOW!
CERTAINLY SHE WILL, TORO! SHE'S GOT EVERYTHING IT TAKES—PLUS!
